Shaped by the tides

Canalside East London Living – the perfect destination to make a new start and call home.

THE PAST

With origins recorded as far back as 1086, the mills have powered the capital for centuries, grinding flour for London's bread supply, producing gunpowder during periods of conflict, and later distilling gin for the city's lively public houses.

Over the years, the island has been shaped by industry, craftsmanship and ingenuity, its riverside setting becoming a vital part of East London's working landscape. Today, that legacy continues at 3 Mills Studios, where globally recognised film, TV, theatre and music productions are created in the same historic surroundings, a modern evolution of the area's long-standing creative spirit.

THE FUTURE

Building on this vivid past, The Waterside draws direct inspiration from the character of Bromley-by-Bow. Designed by award-winning architects, Assael Architecture, the warm clay of the façades echo the industrial red brick buildings that once lined the waterways. At the development's heart, a tree-lined public square offers a focal point, where neighbours can come together, bringing new energy to an area defined by centuries of industry, creativity and community.

New horizons

A new home can upgrade more than your address.

It can open new possibilities in how you live, where you spend your time and what you can discover.

At The Waterside, life opens up, with the calm of the river on your doorstep and the energy of East London all around you. From weekend walks along the Lea to spontaneous evenings in Hackney Wick, every day brings something new within reach. And with excellent connections across London, your next chapter is never far away.

The Waterside is your space to grow, to settle, and to look ahead.

Barge East

Ride the cultural currents

East London's food and drink scene is among London's tastiest attractions, and living at The Waterside puts you at the heart of the action.

Along the canal at Hackney Wick, waterside socialising is very much a way of life. Start at Barge East, the award-winning restaurant housed on a century-old Dutch barge, where seasonal British-European dishes are served with views across the River Lea. Or stroll along the water's edge to CRATE Brewery, where sourdough pizza, craft beer and a warehouse atmosphere combine for an experience that feels quintessentially East London.

Venture towards Bow and Mile End, and the creative neighbourhood spirit continues. Breadery is a much-loved neighbourhood bakery, with bread and pastries freshly baked on-site every day alongside great coffee. Nearby, The Widow's Son, a Grade II listed pub from the 1800s, offers cosy, classic East London charm. And for brunch enthusiasts, Burnt Umber Brasserie Hackney Wick is a go-to for fresh dishes made with local ingredients.

Over at Canalside at Here East, you'll find a vibrant campus of restaurants, bars and other independent businesses from Bucks Barbers to Aura Organics Spa. But if you're strictly seeking buzzing bars and exciting eateries, you'll find everything from popular stalwarts like The Breakfast Club, to local favourites such as Randy's Wings, and homemade pasta masters Gotto. Perfect for mid-week dinners and weekends with friends alike, Here East is a go-to spot for every occasion.

Riverside flow

River life defines everyday living at The Waterside – enjoy early morning strolls over distinctive bridges and past banks of willows, offering space to breathe before the day begins.

Follow the reedy towpaths a little further and you'll reach Limehouse Cut, London's oldest canal, where floating walkways skim the water, and weekend adventurers drift by in kayaks, taking advantage of one of the city's easiest escapes into nature.

Just moments from your front door, Three Mills Green provides a wide-open expanse for morning runs, laid-back picnics or quiet afternoons stretched out on the grass. Continue further through Bow, and the green corridor leads seamlessly into Mile End Park, another canal-side haven that feels worlds away from the city streets.

Limehouse Cut

From Mile End Park, the landscape opens into the vast 200 acres of Victoria Park, one of London's most cherished green destinations. With lakes, cafés, sports facilities, playgrounds and a full calendar of in-demand events like All Points East, every visit offers a fresh perspective on life in the city. Further east, you'll find Stratford's 560-acre Queen Elizabeth Olympic Park, where you can enjoy legacy gardens, miles of running paths, superb sporting facilities and a variety of free art exhibitions.

Life at the Lock

Hear from the 'lock locals'

We revisited Phase 1 purchasers, Tamara and Terence, to see where life at the Lock has taken the couple since first moving to the wider development.

Meet Tamara and Terence

Three years after moving into their two-bedroom home, Tamara and Terence have watched their apartment grow alongside their family. Now shared with their two-year-old daughter, Martina, the home feels settled, welcoming and perfectly suited to family life.

"We really enjoy the location and everything it offers. The commute is still fantastic."

"We've put a lot of care into making our apartment feel cosy and welcoming – it genuinely feels like home. We love the views across Canary Wharf and the City, and the location makes life so easy. With everything close by and such a lovely community around us, we really hope to continue living here."

Shared Ownership explained

Shared Ownership is simply another way to buy your home. You buy a share, pay rent on the rest and, most often, pay a service charge.

The housing provider, in the case of The Waterside, Guinness Homes, will own part of it – but you're living there, you decorate it and you decide when the time is right to sell. The share you buy is funded by a mortgage in the usual way.

Buying a share percentage typically means a smaller deposit and lower mortgage payments.

A smaller mortgage means smaller repayments, but it's important to note that besides a mortgage, with Shared Ownership you'll also need to pay each month: lower cost rent and a service charge.

Buying more shares with staircasing

As your finances allow, you can choose to buy a greater share in the property – this is known as 'staircasing'. Eventually you may be able to buy 100% of the home (by incrementally buying additional shares, sometimes up to 100%), your rent is recalculated and reduced proportionately.

Usually, you will buy further shares as and when you can afford to.

That could either be at the beginning or after you've moved in. It's important to understand that there are other charges involved in staircasing.

To find out more about staircasing contact 0300 456 0522 (Option 2).

To be eligible for Shared Ownership, you need to be: over the age of 18, a resident in the UK, don't currently own a property (unless selling), and unable to purchase on the open-market. Your maximum household annual income should be less than £90,000. If you are not sure if you are eligible, please contact 0300 456 0522 to discuss your situation at The Waterside.

Building for the Future

We're one of the biggest housing and care providers in the country, with over 70,000 homes across the UK and over 150,000 customers.

We're focused on improving people's lives by building new homes and improving services, and we've been doing it for 130 years.

We combine our deep heritage with our forward-thinking ambition and commitment to sustainability.

We recognise that the world around us is changing, and while our purpose will always remain the same, we're constantly evolving to make sure we're building energy-efficient homes that last for future generations.
